Township election next Tuesday

Voters to select supervisor, clerk

Antioch Township voters will go to the polls next Tuesday to select a new supervisor and to decide which of two candidates will be the town clerk for the next four years.

There are four candidates to replace Lloyd E. (Red) Murrie, who is stepping down after 22 years as supervisor.

They are Jim Fields, Alfred J. (Bingo) Bianco, Edward C. Marsh and Ronald G. Martini. The winner of the election will serve four years as township supervisor.

JIM FIELDS, captain of the Antioch Rescue Squad, heads the only full slate on the township ballot.

As a candidate for supervisor, Fields has assembled the "Peoples Party," which includes Mr. Van Patten for town clerk; R. G. "Bud" Holtz for assessor, Blaine Ring for highway commissioner, and Rudy Eckert, Irving W. Carey, Homer LaPlant and David Heath for trustees.

Fields and Van Patten are the only two with opposition.

IN HIS STATEMENT to the voters, Fields said:

"Once in every four years, you have your say in selecting the people you would like to represent you and the 13,000 citizens of Antioch Township. It is their job to direct the spending of township tax money; your money. This is an important election ... these people are your representatives. I am asking the voters of Antioch Township to consider voting for a slate of candidates who, I think, are the most qualified and dedicated to serving the people ... the "Peoples Party."

"If elected supervisor," Fields said, "my aim is to be readily available to each and everyone of you. I will try to anticipate your needs. I will try to solve your problems. I will try to be aware, at all times, of the help that is available to the citizens of Antioch Township; not only at the township level, but in all areas of government.

"I will encourage your telephone calls ... at the township office, my home or place of business, and I will always listen with an open mind.

"And, to the youth in the community, having five children of my own, I am aware of their problems as well as their dreams. I know the importance of understanding and developing their potential.

"To the elderly ... I offer my help and guidance."

"I have given much serious thought to these goals and I believe them to be realistic," Fields said. "I have the encouragement of my family, who have become well-accustomed to my being called away from home at anytime as I have been a volunteer member of the Antioch Rescue Squad for 20 years, captain for nine. This has given me a great compassion for the people.

"Also, having been a member of the Antioch zoning board, past president of the Antioch Lions Club and a lifetime resident of the area, I fully recognize the problems facing a growing

Township voters can still register

The polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m. for next Tuesday's Antioch township election.

Residents can register at the township office up to, and through, the day of election. The office closes at 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday, Apr. 5.

The polling places in the six precincts are:

1. the Antioch village hall; 2. the Scouthouse; 3. Lotus school; 4. Grass Lake school; 5. Channel Lake school; and 6. Emmons school.

GENEVIEVE (JEAN) BENES

2 candidates for Town Clerk

Political observers are anticipating a close race between the two candidates for Antioch town clerk.

Genevieve (Jean) Benes is challenging incumbent Llewellyn (Buster) Van Patten in next Tuesday's election.

Mrs. Benes is vice-president of the Antioch Township Republican Women's club and her husband, Frank, is president of the township's Republican men's club.

Reportedly, most of the six Republican precinct committeemen are backing her candidacy.

MR. VAN PATTEN HAS BEEN township clerk for 28 years, having won seven straight elections. But this time he has stronger opposition than usual.

Reduced fares for seniors

By BETSY ROSSEN

If all goes according to schedule, village of Antioch senior citizens will be receiving reduced taxi cab fares starting May 1.

On Monday night, the village board held a public hearing to discuss proposed uses of revenue sharing funds. The money is given directly from the federal government to municipalities and is based on population and salary per capita.

Following testimony and letters from Catholic Charities (administrators of the thrice-weekly nutrition center at the Scout House), the Lake County Transportation Authority, the Lake County Council for Seniors and several interested residents, trustees decided to lower the minimum age from 65 to 60.

Sixteen tickets will be allotted per eligible person per month. Each would allow the rider to pay 75 cents for all rides within village limits; the village would pay the remaining 75 cents, using $4,000 of federal funds during fiscal year 1977.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS were:

- Sidewalks, $17,000.
- Civic activities, $15,000.
- Codification of ordinances, $12,000.
- Front-end loader, $10,000.
- Hiram Buttrick sawmill project, $5,000.
- Two portable radios for fire department, $3,200.

THE FUNDS for the fiscal year starting May 1 total nearly $80,000.

A budget hearing has been tentatively scheduled for Monday, Apr. 25.

Antioch Community High School principal Arthur Blecke told the board of education last Thursday that the 1975-76 summer school had operated at a loss, necessitating a tuition increase for 1977.

The board approved a tuition charge of $33 per semester credit course. Limited bus transportation will be provided for the classes, which will be held June 16 through July 29.

SPECIAL BOARD meetings were set for 7 p.m., tomorrow (Thursday) to review student discipline and 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Apr. 9 to canvass the election returns and organize the new board.

The meetings will be held in the board room at the school.

EDITORIALFields for supervisor

After much consideration and study, it is our conclusion that it is important that Antioch voters elect Jim Fields next Tuesday as their township supervisor.

We give Mr. Fields our endorsement because we sincerely feel he can best provide the kind of leadership the township needs.

The progress made by the Antioch Rescue Squad in the last nine years, since Jim Fields has been its captain, is an indication of his leadership qualities.

Mr. Fields is a lifelong resident of the community and will ensure that growth and development in Antioch township is both orderly and controlled.

WE ARE EXTREMELY impressed with his performance as a member of Antioch's Zoning Board of Appeals. He has shown much intelligence and common sense while serving in that capacity.

Since Mr. Fields has worked in village government we feel he will provide an excellent working relationship between the village and township if he is elected supervisor.

Also, since he heads the Peoples Party, which will occupy at least six of the seven other posts in the township administration, Mr. Fields will be able to work best with that group.

MR. FIELDS IS THE CHOICE of Lloyd E. (Red) Murrie, who is not seeking re-election after 22 years as township supervisor.

"He is the ideal man for the job," said Murrie. "One of the biggest roles of the township supervisor is taking care of indigent people ... those who are temporarily in trouble. His dedicated work with the rescue squad shows that Jim has compassion for people who are in trouble."

WE RESPECT the qualifications of the three other candidates for supervisor and especially their interest in serving the township. Competition for elected office is healthy.

Nobody can predict which man will win this four-candidate race ... only the people can decide that. The most important thing is that they get out and vote next Tuesday.

And for the reasons we have cited, we must recommend that they vote for Jim Fields.

the SOVEREIGN STATE of AFFAIRSBOYD*Less Americans below poverty line

By RONALD REAGAN

It may come as a bitter blow to aging campus radicals, urban poverty barons, media liberals and politicized clergymen, but it now appears that we are on the verge of actually winning the war on poverty.

Whether or not we will depends on the outcome of an obscure battle being waged in Washington over statistics.

If one side wins, Americans used to believing the liberal notion that the poverty problem is getting worse will be in for an upbeat surprise. If the other side wins, Washington would bestow "instant poverty" on about 6.5 million more Americans than now fall into the category.

IT ALL GOES BACK to 1964 when President Lyndon Johnson's task force, drawing up plans to fight a "war" on poverty, set out to define the word. They turned to Mollie Orshansky, a social Security Administration statistician considered by some to be an authority on the subject.

To come up with a minimum adequate-standard-of-living (below which was official "poverty") Ms.

Orshansky took a 1961 Agriculture Department "economy food budget" and a 1955 survey showing that the average family spent one-third of its income for food. She multiplied the food budget by three and established the first poverty line: $3,165 for a family of four.

Nowadays, the poverty line is adjusted every year for cost-of-living increases, though the underlying assumptions are still based on those 16- and 22-year-old studies.

BASED ON THAT FIGURING, some 26 million Americans are still below the line. That is down from 33 million (before the War on Poverty threw billions of dollars at the problem) but still more than 10 percent of the population.

However, the government's calculations simply ignore the value of benefits for which the poor are eligible: food stamps, housing subsidies, school lunches, Medicaid, Medicare and so forth.

The Congressional Budget Office says this is wrong.

"The nation has come a lot closer to eliminating poverty than most people realize," CBO Director Alice M. Rivlin told a reporter. In fact, the CBO says the number of poor Americans isn't 26 million, but only 9 million when you put a value on the non-cash benefits.

MUCH OF THE WAR of the statisticians centers on what value is to be assigned to those benefits. Ms. Orshansky leaps to the defense of her poverty formula which denies them any value. She has powerful bureaucratic allies who in turn have vocal "client" groups for a fistful of benefit programs via states and communities that are based on the present, obsolete formula. Those "clients" aren't about to give up those benefits without a lot of fighting in Washington.

When it assigned values to in-kind benefits, the CBO chose a cautious course. Instead of taking market value it took the cost to the government of each program, deducted administrative overhead costs and divided the result by the number of beneficiaries.

MS. RIVLIN SPELLED OUT the logic of CBO's approach: "You can argue whether the line for determining poverty ought to be higher or lower ... But you can't argue that because benefits don't come in the form of cash, they're not benefits."

Sounds sensible, but Ms. Orshansky isn't having any of it. She is at work revising her official poverty index on the basis of a more expensive 1965 USDA food budget. She intends to continue to treat non-cash benefits as if they didn't exist. The result, if her new formula is adopted: with the touch of a computer button the new index will create a poverty "clientele" 25 percent greater than the official one today!

When in Washington, never underestimate the durability of a bad idea.

the Pfarr Corner

By JERRY PFARR

You know how I hate to boast, but I feel it is only fair to warn you that I am acquiring a vast wealth of knowledge.

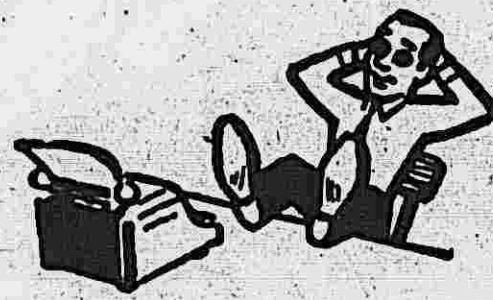

Everyone should have a hobby, so a few years ago I began reading our set of Funk and Wagnall's encyclopedia.

It happens to be a 20-volume set and I am proud to report that I am now in page 146 of volume 5 (Chile to Costigan).

This means I am already an expert on more than 20 percent of all the wisdom in the entire world. (In all fairness I should qualify that statement because I think I have forgotten most of what I have read.)

BUT I'LL NEVER FORGET volume 3 (Bayou to Buller) in which I learned about Giovanni Da Bologna, the Flemish sculptor of the 16th century. Never heard of him did you? See how much smarter I am?

Honestly, though, the real reason for this column is not to flaunt my edge over those of you who are spending your evenings watching television or playing bingo. It's just that I have come across something that might interest you.

Of course, you are aware of the heavyweight boxing champion known as Muhammed Ali. And most of you probably recall that when he began his career his name was Cassius Clay.

But did you know that his parents named him after a man named Cassius Marcellus Clay, who lived from 1810 to 1903? Now, isn't that fascinating? (If you don't think so, you can quit reading now, but if you choose to stick with me I'll tell you about the first Cassius Clay.)

HE WAS AN ABOLITIONIST and political figure who had his "roots" in Kentucky, the state in which our own little Cassius Clay grew up and became a Golden Gloves and Olympic heavyweight champion.

Old Cassius was a cousin of Henry Clay, the famous lawyer who defended Aaron Burr (volume 4, page 32) ... but, please, don't let me digress.

Old Cassius was educated at Yale and became a rough-and-tumble frontier politician who liked to settle his arguments with a Bowie knife. (The Bowie knife was named after Colonel James Bowie ... volume 3, page 350 ... who was killed in the battle of the Alamo.)

(By now you can see how fascinating this encyclopedia hobby can become!)

GETTING BACK TO OLD Cassius Clay, he published antislavery newspapers, became a leader in the Republican party and fought with the Union Army in the Civil War.

He lived to be 93 and, at the age of 90, married a young lass of 16. Talk about a tiger!

If I get through the next 15 volumes I will be able to tell you all about Zululand, Zebras and Zeppe-lins.

But I think I'll put my hobby aside for tonight because Charlie's Angels is on TV.

A newspaper dedicated to people marching to their own drummers.

am my own man. One of my campaign promises is 'I will heed the call of the needy in the township!'"

EDWARD C. MARSH has been president of the Channel Lake Bluffs Association for the last six years. He also is a trustee at Antioch's Moose Lodge.

Mr. Marsh moved to Antioch township 7½ years ago from Chicago. His background is in construction supervision and inspection for states, counties and municipalities.

He lives with his wife, Margaret, and two children at Rt. 3, Box 577.

Mr. Marsh said he feels qualified for the supervisor job because he has worked for municipalities as a zoning, engineering and building inspector. He mentioned he also has been involved in motor fuel tax public works projects for more than 30 years.

He said "there are a number of roads in Antioch township that need to be regraded and I also know where to go to find out about grants that would help us with drainage problems."

Mr. Marsh said he would pursue federal grants for hiring college students free for summer work.

He said he thinks there is a lack of communication between the township administration and the residents, and that he would "better inform the people, through news media and direct mail, of township activities."

Mr. Marsh added he would provide assistance to retirees, helping them fill out forms for the Homestead act, and "better inform residents of their rights regarding the county nursing home, emergency relief, welfare programs and food stamps."

He said he feels the township needs better police protection and would check with other townships to see how they are paying for extra sheriff patrol. "Vandalism is a very big problem," he said.

Mr. Marsh said, if elected, he will keep regular office hours at the township hall and deal immediately with complaints and requests.

He said he also would put radios in township vehicles for better communication with emergency work crews.

RONALD G. MARTINI has been conducting a quiet campaign for supervisor, preferring personal contact and one-to-one communication.

He is well-known to many area residents through his work for the past four years at the Antioch Packing House. A township resident for five years, he has spent summers here since his boyhood.

"The job calls for a good listener," Martini says, "and I believe I have that capability. I want to represent and serve the people who need assistance."

Martini, 43, worked on the Chicago Fire Dept. for 13 years, including service on its rescue squad and arson investigation team. In 1968, he received the Chicago Insurance Underwriters award for a dangerous rescue effort.

50 YEARS AGO: MAR. 31, 1927

Antioch and the rest of the world is waiting with great anticipation the grand opening on April 23 of the Antioch Palace, Richard Macek's wonder dance pavilion and recreation auditorium now nearing completion a mile south of Antioch on highway 21. All who have seen the place during the past few weeks agree that it is correctly named for indeed it is a palace.

An almost miraculous escape from serious or possibly fatal injury was the experience of Edward Beebe, mechanic at Antioch Sales and Service Company. On Tuesday evening the large Studebaker car he was driving home to Waukegan left the road when he passed another car and turned over in a ditch near the Thomas Coole farm.

Antioch basketball fans were almost wild with joy last Thursday night when the news was flashed here that the crack local high school team had defeated the fast University High at Bloomington in their opening clash in the Wesleyan tournament where 16 of the state's best teams met in an elimination contest.

20 YEARS AGO: MAR. 28, 1957

Antioch will be directly affected by the Richard Bong Air Base, local business and professional men were told last week. The 6,000-acre air port, to be started July 1 at Kansasville, Wis., will be just 12 miles north of Antioch. This close proximity may be expected to boom Antioch business. The base was decided upon three years ago and Kansasville picked as the best location to supply a defense for the Chicago area both because of its topography and the fact that it is away from the thickly settled area.

Members of the senior class play at Antioch Township High School this year include: Judy Horton, Mary Lou Seyfarth, Frank Albert, Francis Dorner, Dave Valkenaar and Lynn Gray. The play, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," will be presented Apr. 5 and 6.

For repeal of FDA ban

Calling the Food and Drug Administration's prohibition of saccharin "unnecessary, unfair and potentially harmful to American consumers," Congressman Robert McClory (R-13th District) sponsored legislation this week to change the legal language which forced the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to impose the ban.

McClory's bill would require that the FDA ban foods or additives only when they are shown to cause cancer when ingested in reasonable quantities. Under the Delaney clause of the Food Additives Amendments of 1958, FDA must prohibit any food shown to cause cancer in tests, regardless of the quantities ingested.

BECAUSE CANADIAN tests indicate that huge amounts of saccharin must be taken to cause cancer, passage of the bill would repeal the ban.

The House subcommittee on Health and the Environment recently held two days of oversight hearings on the FDA saccharin ban, which is scheduled to take effect in July. McClory said the subcommittee is likely to hold legislative hearings to change the Delaney clause in the near future.

BEGINNING TUESDAY, Apr. 5, McClory's Lake County office will be located in the County Building, 18 North County St., Waukegan.

The office, managed by Mrs. Sharon Bowden, will be located in Suite 601-A, and will retain the same telephone number (312) 336-4554.

Thought for today

The news arrives that water is the most common beverage, which proves that some people will drink anything.

THE OAKWOOD KNOLLS Property Owners Association spring dance co-chairman Woody Kelly is shown discussing the details of the event's grand prize with Ruth Burke of Antioch Travel Agency. The prize winner will receive a weekend for two at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, co-sponsored by the association and the agency. The dance will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Saturday, Apr. 16 at St. Peter's Social Center. Tickets are $4 per person, available from Tim Hynes (395-0544) and at all Antioch financial institutions.

Register for school

1977-78 St. Peter School family registration will take place in Father Frawley Hall on Saturday, Apr. 2 after the 5:30 p.m. Mass and after all Masses on Sunday, Apr. 3, until 1 p.m. Every family must register (including those with children presently attending St. Peter School).

The $25 per family (non-refundable) registration fee is payable at the time of registration. First graders and new students must present a baptismal (unless baptized at St. Peter's) and-or birth certificate.

First graders must be 6 years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1977. Tuition for 1977-78 for one child is $520; for two or more children, $572.

The Town Crier

This has been one of those days. I called Dial-a-Prayer and they hung up on me.

Then I made out a new will, donating my body to science ... but science is contesting the will.

EXCELLENT PEOPLE, Joan Lindstrom and Dan Kasik of Antioch, were married last Friday and reportedly on a Las Vegas honeymoon. We hear they will be back this week and Dan, one of Antioch's finest firemen, will resume campaigning for the Apr. 19 election. He is a candidate for village trustee.

THE FIRST ANNUAL "Hunter's Buffet" was a big success at the World Famous Village Pub. Bill Georgeson gave up his day off and opened the Pub's doors on Sunday to help raise money for the new hockey team for Antioch area players of high school age.

MONDAY'S TORNADO-LIKE winds, just before 3 p.m., blew out windows at Dodge of Antioch and the Antioch Tailor Shop on Main St.

A few trees and lots of limbs were swept down, too, and some resort owners suffered damage and loss to their boats and piers.

SOMEONE CONNECTED with the Antioch grade schools gave us this interesting, and kind of humorous, observation last week.

In a fire drill, it takes only three minutes to get all of the little kids out of the school.

And when the bell rings, telling them that school is over for the day, they evacuate the place in one minute.

ON THE MORE SERIOUS side, everyone in the community should take a tour of Antioch's grade schools to see why District 34 wants to get a referendum passed this spring.

The committee backing the referendum feels the need for a new lower grade school on land near the Upper Grade School. State funds would help build it, if Antioch voters say okay.

We visited Oakland school with nine members of the committee — mostly mothers of school children.

There is no storage space left at Oakland. Even the stage in the auditorium is being used for storage.

The school has a tiny library used by about 550 pupils. Worst of all are the portable buildings with their treacherous steps. Many of the pupils must go outside, regardless of the weather, about four or five times a day between the portables and the main building — for example, to go to the washroom.

AT THE OLD Channel Lake school there are no hallways. To get to one classroom, the pupils must walk through another.

Channel Lake was closed for two years and Principal Paul Hain says it's a credit to the custodial staff that the school is in its present repair.

State school officials have expressed concern that 372 of Antioch's grade school students are "inadequately housed." They are referring to the 182 students at the Channel Lake school and the students who are in the six portable buildings at Oakland.

The state refuses to put any money into remodeling at Channel Lake. However, the state Capital Development Board will contribute from $500,000 to $700,000 in funds if the school board gets local backing in its referendum.

HAPPENINGS

GOV. JAMES R. Thompson is expected to give a wide-ranging discussion of what's ahead for Illinois when he addresses the annual membership meeting of the Lake County Republican Federation at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Brae Loch Country Club, Rt. 45 north of Rt. 120.

Federation President Michael Cudahy said the governor will be the only speaker. A full turnout of Republican officials will be on hand along with Federation members, who are asked to bring guests. George Kangas, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, will introduce the Governor.

RESCUE SQUAD DONATION — Jim Fields, center, captain of the Antioch Rescue Squad, received a generous donation of $1,350 to the squad from the Lake County Health Association, represented by Harry Stern, left, a director and chairman of the HIA funding committee. Also present was William E. Brook, right, president of the State Bank of Antioch and a director of HIA. Stern reports that a total of $4,000 was awarded to 10 Lake County rescue squads, particularly those which are funded entirely by free-will donations generated by their own efforts and provide their services to the public at no charge. The money allocated to each squad subsidizes the purchase of needed equipment. The last distribution of funds was made by the association in 1975.

Woman's Club plans outing

By FLORENCE PEDERSEN

Members and guests attending the Mar. 21 meeting of the Antioch Woman's Club enjoyed the program, "Decorating with Antiques and Junk," presented by Judy Cherney of Elmhurst. She told of her many funny experiences as a "junquer" and had several examples of what she has done with junk she bought.

Refreshments were served by Ruth Duha and her committee: Delores Abderholden, Betty Anderson, Carol Boston, Irene Clemens, Kathryn Kulack, Virginia Murphy, Lillian Olson and Dolly Spiering.

MEMBERS PLANNING to take the bus for the tour to the Chateau Louise Wednesday, Apr. 6 must be at the village parking lot no later than 10:30 a.m. The tour will include luncheon and the play "Plaza Suite," starring Imogene Cocoa.

This will be the club's next get-together and should be an enjoyable trip.

PLANS ARE being made for the ways and means card party and white elephant sale at 12:30 p.m. on Monday, Apr. 25 at the First National Bank of Antioch's hospitality room.

The club will tag on Salvation Army Doughnut Day from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Friday, June 10.

The Literary Club meets the last Thursday of each month. This month's meeting will be held at the home of Lillie Petty.

THE CLUB is in need of a spinet or small piano. If anyone would like to donate one, or if one is available that would not be too expensive, please notify Pres. Irene Hahn.

A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 13, on the proposed use of federal revenue sharing funds by the village of Lake Villa.

The hearing is to afford citizens an opportunity to participate in the decision-making process and will be held at the village hall, 63 Cedar Ave.

State Bank of Antioch has donated $100 in savings bonds.

Toft wants citizens' views in village government

As mayor, Ray Toft would have a "citizen's hot-line" installed in the village hall. He also would post a suggestion box outside the village hall, because Ray Toft feels that residents should have more of a voice in the operation of Antioch.

He plans to communicate more directly with citizens both personally and through the news media.

ACHS students perform well in state meet

Eleven Antioch High School students, members of the Antioch chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) competed last week in business contests with DE students from 115 high schools from all over the state.

WINNING A first place in the sales contest was Mark Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis of Antioch, who will attend the 31st annual National DECA Career Development Conference. He is employed at BJ's Fashions for Men.

Mark is among several Illinois students selected to participate in the conference, which is designed to help develop future leaders for marketing and distribution. It will be held Apr. 27 - May 2 at various hotels in Anaheim, Calif. and is expected to have over 6,000 DECA members, state advisors and local advisors in attendance representing all 50 states plus the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam.

THE STATE competition was held Mar. 18 and 19 in the new Merchandise Mart apparel center in Chicago. The contests included advertising, sales, job interviews, display, cluster (a mixture of the first four), and public speaking.

Seniors competing were: John Burnett and Patty Propeck, advertising; John Schalk and Don Swanson, job interview; Gayle Fielder and Cindy Richter, display; and Linda DiSilvestro and Mel Terry, cluster.

Juniors in the contest were Mark, Larry Hanson, also in sales, and Connie Ries, public speaking.

THREE OTHER ANTIOCH students besides Mark made the finals: John Schalk (who is employed at the State Bank of Antioch) was in the top 15 for his category; Connie Ries (Ashland Jewelers) was in the top eight and received a medal; and Larry Hanson (BJ's Fashions for Men) was in the top 12.

This was the best overall performance by Antioch DE students in the five years they have competed. This was also the first time Antioch has won a state championship.

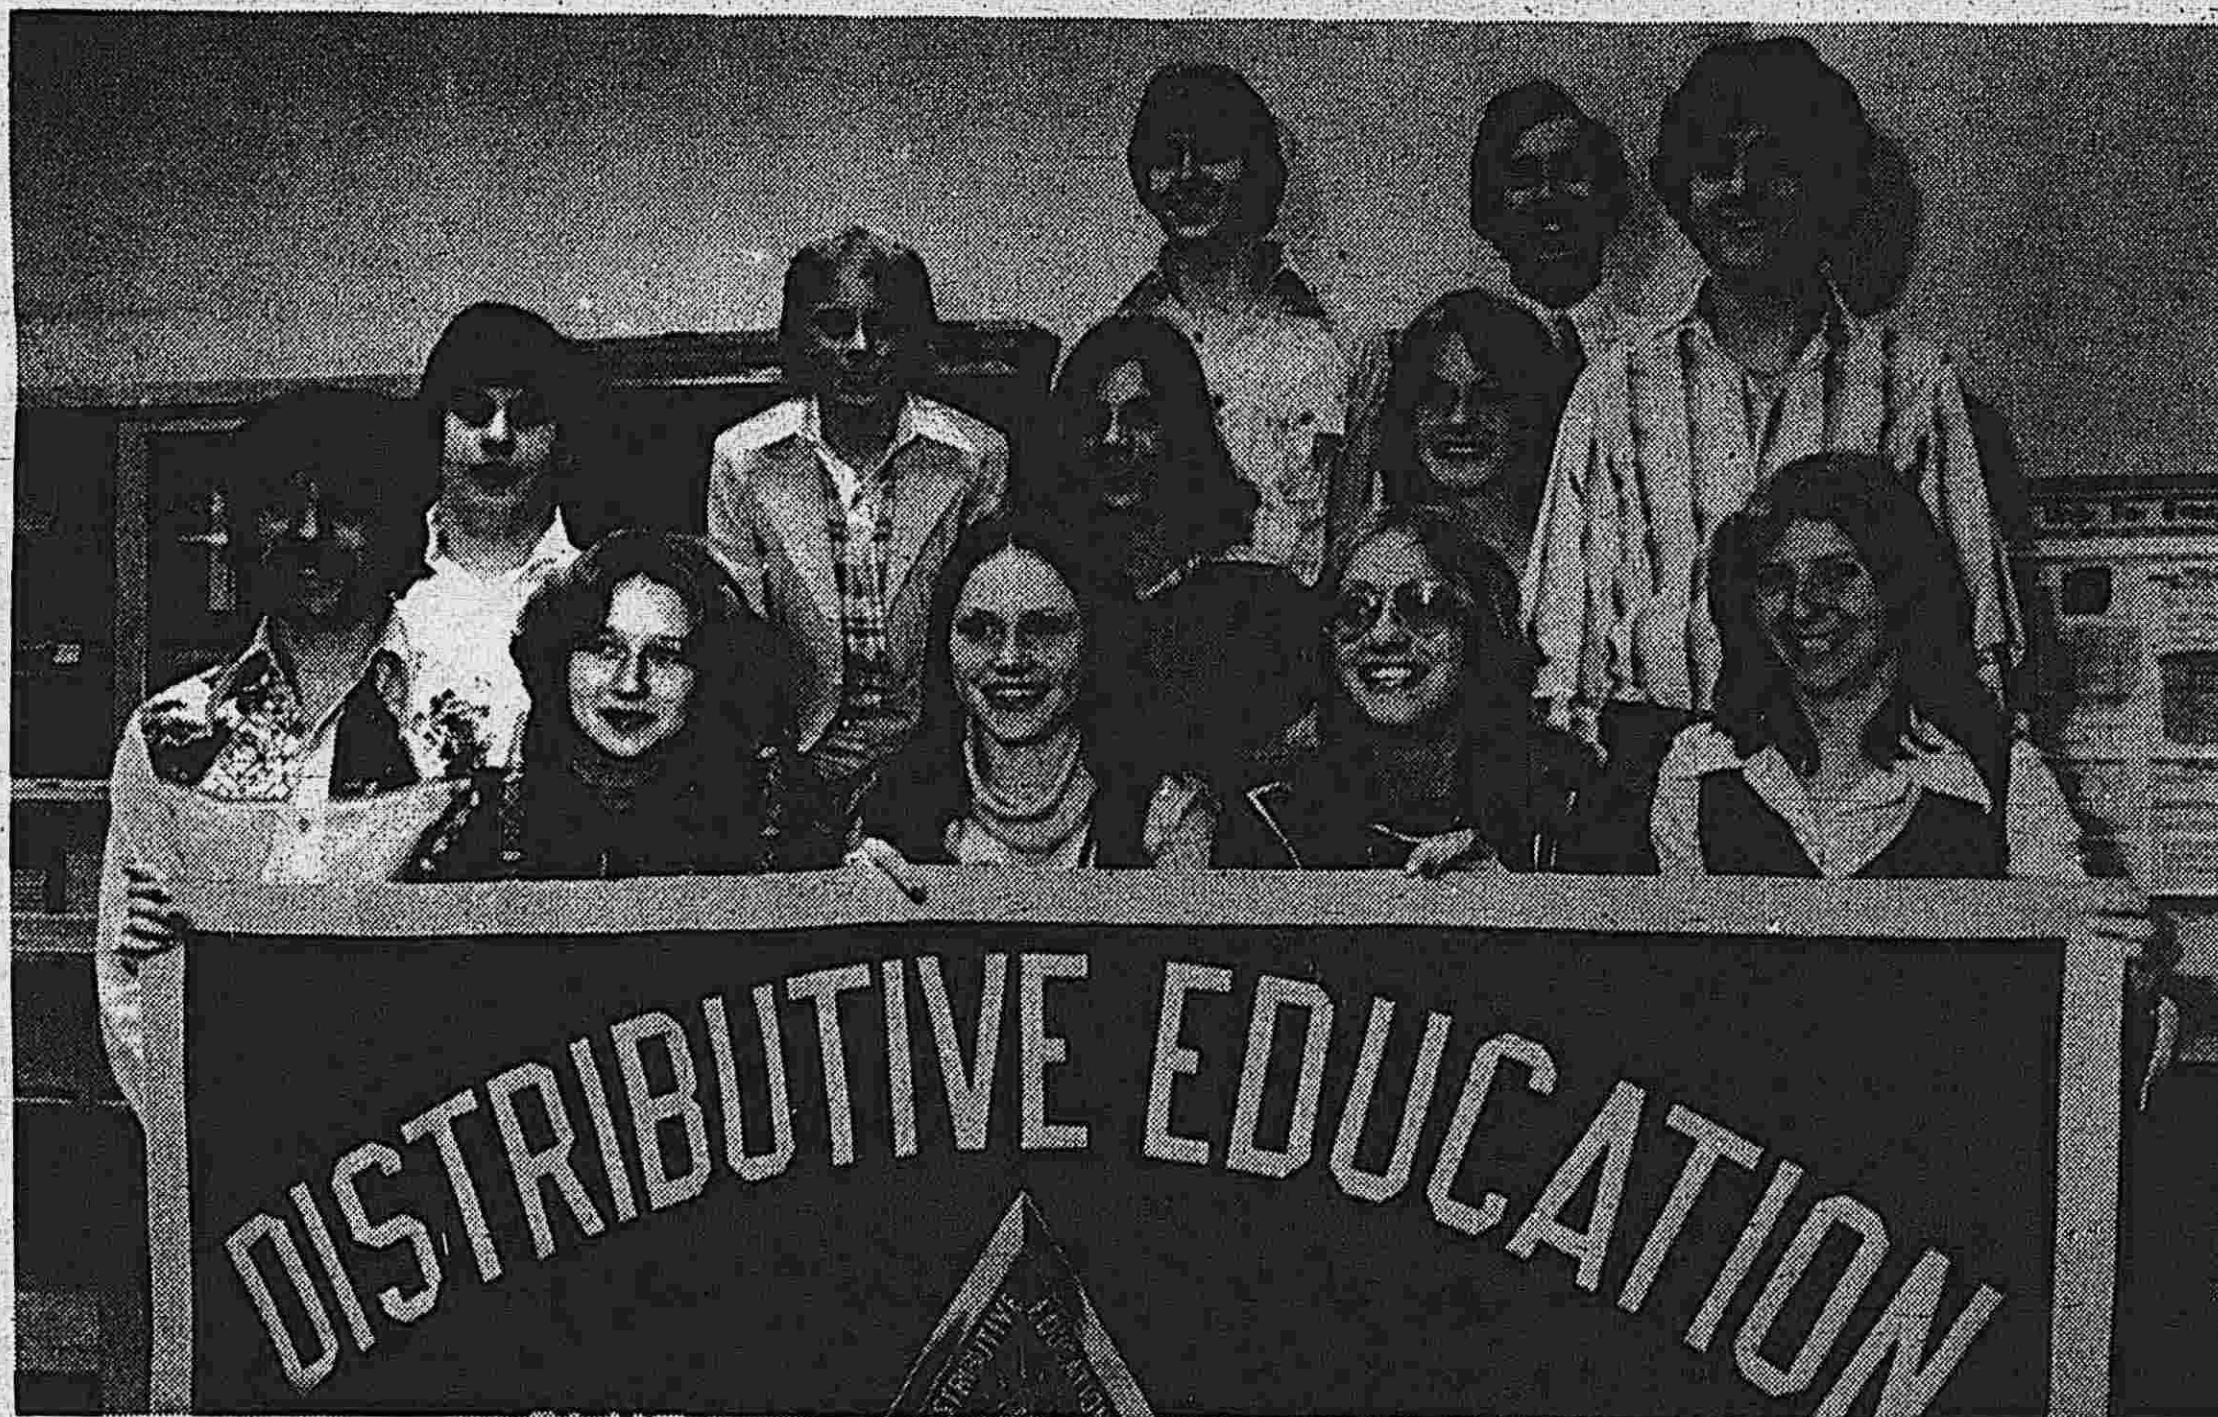

DECA IS the only national student work-study organization operating through the nation's schools to attract young people to careers in marketing, merchandising, and management. Students attend classes in the morning and work afternoons at various training stations throughout Lake County, including Antioch, Lakehurst and Hawthorn shopping centers.

TM lecture at local library

Jim Polley will be lecturing on "The TM Program and Health" next Wednesday, Apr. 6. The free public lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Antioch Township Library.

POLLEY CLAIMS "Studies that have been completed at over 100 research institutes and universities throughout the world validate that the TM technique reduces high blood pressure, anxiety, depression, cigarette smoking, alcohol consumption and many other health-related problems.

"Many doctors in the Lake County area are prescribing the TM program to allow their patients to better deal with America's leading problem - Stress," he added.

MORE THAN 3,000 practitioners of the TM program live in Lake County. Many Antioch residents have begun the practice in the last few years, including Susan Antonelli.

She says, "The TM program has helped me in a number of ways. I've been practicing the TM technique for more than two years and have noticed many positive changes. I've quit smoking and also overcame a chronic neck problem. I simply feel much more relaxed since beginning the TM program."

THE LECTURE will conclude with a question and answer period. Polley teaches at the Lake County TM Center in Grayslake and has studied with Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, founder of the TM program.

works full-time for the Lake County highway department.

In the last 28 years, he said, the job has grown "from about four days a month to about four days a week."

He said he spends Saturdays and Sundays at the township office and three or four evenings a week because "the workload has increased that much."

The town clerk job paid $5 a meeting (about 14 meetings a year) 28 years ago. Now it pays $2,800 a year and is going up to $4,000.

MR. VAN PATTEN SERVED on the Antioch Fire Department for 25 years and is a member of the Sequoit Masonic lodge. As township clerk he has also served as clerk for highway commissioner Blaine Ring.

The present township supervisor, L. E. (Red) Murrie, said last week that it is important to the township office and residents that Mr. Van Patten be retained as township clerk.

He said: "I have had the good fortune, during my entire term, in working with Llewellyn (Buster) Van Patten and I can say without reservation that he has done a tremendous job. He is knowledgeable, well versed in the requirement of the office and ready and willing to assist in any way possible."

MRS. BENES HAS LIVED in Antioch township for 29 years. Before becoming vice-president of the Republican women's club, she served as sergeant-at-arms and secretary.

She said she is seeking the town clerk job "because I'm interested in government and enjoy working with people."

"I enjoy being involved," Mrs. Benes added, "attending meetings, keeping minutes and taking care of election procedures."

She has been treasurer of the St. Peter's parish Women's Club, formerly the Altar and Rosary Society, for seven years. She also has been secretary of the Chain o' Lakes subdivision for 20 years and a room mother at Grass Lake school for four years.

She has worked on voter registration in the township and Grass Lake area, and has been chairman of several civic events.

"I have tremendous experience in secretary and treasurer work and money matters," Mrs. Benes said. Her husband, Frank, is president of Benes Construction Co. and she has been secretary of the firm.

Mrs. Benes said she would be available at all times when needed at the township office.

"I have the time to spend to do the job," she said.

Set being created for 'Charley's Aunt'

Within the doors of the PM&L Theatre in downtown Antioch, the stage for Brandon Thomas' comedy, "Charley's Aunt," is being created to form an interesting and unique atmosphere, "It promises to add to the action of an accomplished cast," said Pat Jamison, director.

"Developing the atmosphere of a play setting involves creative thinking," she said. "It proves to be a tremendous learning experience for those who plunge into the fun and work of a stage production.

"Individuals who get involved sometimes find themselves over their heads in hammers and nails, threads and needles, paints and dye baths, only to see a result in everything working together to create a fine, enjoyable piece of artwork."

The production will run Apr. 9, 15, 16, 22 and 23. Working on the set are Mark Kettner of Round Lake, who also is playing the dual role of Fancourt Babberly and Charley's Aunt; Dann Baugher of Millburn, acting out the part of a school chum; Dan Maloney of Fox Lake, another school chum, and Charles Wykeham.

Louie Vasseur designed the set under the leadership of producer Mark Jamison.

Easter egg hunt Apr. 19

Once again, as it has for 16 years, the Northern Illinois Conservation Club will conduct its annual Easter Egg Hunt at club headquarters, just south of Rt. 173, about 2½ miles west of Antioch. The date is Saturday, Apr. 9; time is from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The event is expected to attract several hundred children and their parents to take part in the hunt for several kinds of eggs and specially-marked eggs containing prize tickets.

BEGINNING AT 11 a.m., youngsters 10 years and under will be divided into groups of ages 1-4, 5-7 and 8-10.

Prizes will be awarded for the largest number of eggs in each category. Door prizes are also scheduled and the club kitchen will be in operation, providing coffee and rolls for hungry guests.

Following the hunt, the club trap range will be in operation and free shotgun instruction will be available for interested shooters and others.

THE NORTHERN Illinois Conservation Club, headed this year by Jerry Rockow, is a non-profit organization dedicated to the principle of conservation in Illinois and the United States.

Individuals with similar aims and endeavors are invited to join the club and take an active part. Complete information may be received from club secretary Maryanne Kaht, 395-1898, Antioch.

THE ANTIOCH MOOSE LODGE was honored last Saturday when it was chosen as the site of the graduation dinner-dance for students from Mooseheart High School. The students are mostly youngsters without homes who are housed and educated at Mooseheart, Ill., by the support of lodges such as Antioch's. The bottom photo

Offer dog training

The Antioch Kennel Association, now in its second year, will be holding special programs at their regular monthly meetings. The Apr. 8 program, given by Tom Just, vice-president of the O.G. Wisconsin Schutzhund Club, will discuss training procedures taken to put a Schutzhund title on a dog.

It is free, open to the public, and begins at 8 p.m. (with the program immediately following). The meeting and program will be held in the community room of the First National Bank of Antioch.

IN COORDINATION with the Antioch Park District, the association will be offering training classes, including beginning obedience (sub-novice), advanced obedience (novice), and conformation classes.

These classes are open to all eight years and older, with dogs at least six months of age. The one-hour sessions will meet at 7:30 p.m. at Osmond Park in Antioch for 10 consecutive Tuesdays starting Apr. 19.

Cost is $12 to district residents and $15 to all others. Registration training applications and information can be obtained from Kim Isaacson at 395-6632 or Pat Lombardi at 815-678-4310.

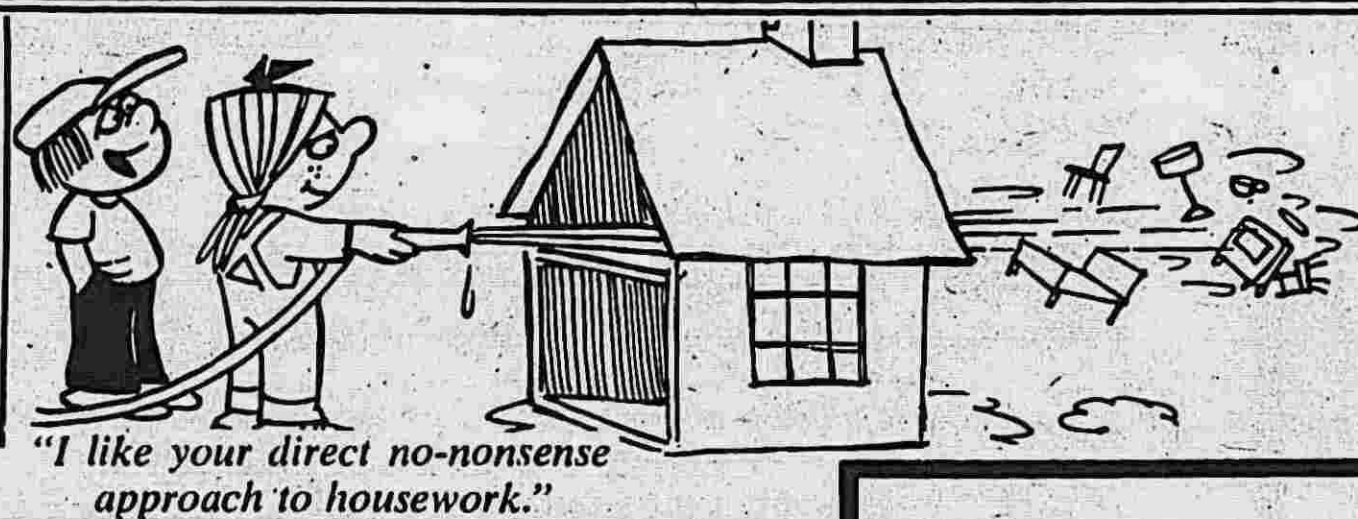

Pre-registration is preferred because classes are limited.

A general meeting will be held in the Antioch Fire Station basement, 874 Main St., at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Apr. 6 to discuss the newly adopted codes and fees of the village of Antioch.

All local contractors and trades are asked to attend.

Lots of congratulations to be offered this week! The 105-piece Antioch Grade School senior band captured first place last Saturday in the district contest at Wauconda High School. Director Larry Wagner tells us all members will be receiving medals for their fine performance.

Comments included these remarks from a judge who gave the band a perfect score: "The band has much technical maturity, plus a musical emotion that allows them to rise above the notes. This is a band to be proud of!"

We quite agree.

YOUNG BOB THAIN was one happy fisherman last Saturday because he caught a 22-inch large

He pulled in the 5 1/4 pounder from Lake Antioch. The angler lives with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Thain, in the Sabrina Manor subdivision of the lake area.

JUST HEARD that Hamline University guard Tim Mieuire was named by coaches to the Midwest Intercollegiate Athletic Conference all-conference team.

The senior from Antioch directed the attack for the Pipers, who allowed just 51.4 points per game during the season. Mieuire hit better than 51 percent of his field goals and 80 percent of his free throws.

His team finished the season in second place in the MIAC with a 22-8 record. They accepted a bid to the NCAA Division III tournament, winning the Midwestern Region title and the quarterfinal round.

WE WELCOME George and Mario Hiropoulos, the new owners of the Antioch Restaurant, 904 Main St.

HEARD A great joke recently from two sources, Bob Rossen and Bill Georgeson. We'll share it with you:

The auto manufacturers have come up with a real innovation, a car that get 70 miles per gallon. But they're afraid it won't do well on the market. The reason? It runs on coffee.

Bob also came up with this observation: if you went to Thompson's Grill every day, you could see Maggie Daily!

NO FOOLING, this Friday is Mayor Bob Wilton's birthday. Hope it's a happy one. All for now ... see 'ya!

RECENT TOUR of the State Bank of Antioch gave a group of Antioch High School Business I students a firsthand look at the cash dispensing machine located in the bank's Lake Street entrance. Tony Starcevic, vice president and security officer, demonstrated the unique features of the Around The Clock Cash Card checking account service to (from left) ACHS teacher Mark Guthrie, Peggy Rogers and Jay Shanks. Members of the class also observed the teller area, new account and loan offices, vault and safe deposit area, and the processing of transactions through the proof machines in the bookkeeping department. Cancer Society begins fund-raising crusade

During April, the American Cancer Society Lake County unit's education and fund-raising crusade in Antioch will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. William E. Brook, a volunteer committed to making the American Cancer Society goal: "We Want To Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime," a reality.

Mrs. Brook, with the help of many volunteers in the community, will be working toward a goal of $1,800. This is part of the Lake County unit's total 1977 goal of $251,823.

Mrs. Brook noted that the American Cancer Society program is threefold, including research, education and service and rehabilitation programs to help the cancer patient and family.

"We urge everyone to give generously to the American Cancer Society this year. It is a crusade for life and we want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime," Mrs. Brook said.

PERSPECTIVES

Miracles and open minds

By DONALD COLE
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Rene Descartes is widely regarded as one of the greatest thinkers in the history of the Western world. More than 300 years have passed since the publication of his "Discourse" on his approach to philosophy, and it is still read and discussed in universities all over the world. Descartes said many fine things about the mind, including the statement that "It is not enough to have a good mind. The main thing is to use it well."

Nobody can find fault with that statement. Brains - which is another way of saying "mind" - are of no value unless put to good use. And the essential condition for proper exercise of the mind is that it be open, not closed. Winston Churchill defined a fanatic as a man "who can't change his mind and won't change the subject." His mind is closed.

MANY CRITICS of the Bible fit Churchill's description. They approach the Scriptures with their minds made up; the Bible, they believe, is full of error. Its record of miracles proves that it is a tissue of myth and legend since, the argument goes, miracles simply can't happen. This they assert is the face of evidence to the contrary. Since miracles can't happen, there can be no evidence in support of them! So says the man whose mind is closed. Descartes might say that this is poor use of the mind.

How do such critics explain the presence of miracles in the Gospels? They say that Christ's followers created stories about Him; in short, they deified Him after His death. It's a poor theory that collapses before the facts. The truth is, within a few days after the event called the Ascension, Peter proclaimed in Jerusalem that Christ had risen from the dead. Not only so, Peter and John and possibly others in the group performed miracles in Christ's name. These events are recounted in the book called Acts of the Apostles.

THE QUESTION is, if the record of miracles in the gospels is the work of apostles bent on deifying Christ, how does one explain the miracles in Acts of the Apostles? Did Luke wish to deify Peter and his friends? The question is scarcely worth the time it takes to frame it. But the point to be made here is important: the gospels and Acts of the Apostles stand or fall together. Thus, if the miracles in Acts cannot be dismissed as the work of men bent on deifying the apostles, neither can the miracles in the gospels be explained away on similar grounds. Those who attempt to do so are like Winston Churchill's fanatic: they can't change their minds, and they can't stop talking about the question. Or, they are like the men of whom Descartes said that it isn't enough to have a good mind; the main thing is to use it well.

Those who use their minds will respond to the miracles in the Bible as did the apostles and their friends, men like Luke. Luke said that Christ showed Himself alive after His resurrection "by many convincing proofs" (Acts 1:2). Convincing, that is, to those whose minds are open and can be convinced.

Driving At Night . . .Thirteen Tips For Women

Thirteen can be a lucky number for women motorists who travel at night. They'll have safer, more-trouble-free trips if they follow these precautions compiled by Jack Morton of the Service and Parts Sales Division of Chrysler Corporation.

1. Always lock your doors, both when you're away from your car and driving.
2. Travel with your fuel tank at least half full so that you won't run out of gas.
3. Park under a light in a shopping center parking area or on the street.
4. Approach your car from an angle which allows you to check underneath it for waiting assailants.
5. Check the inside of your car before unlocking the door. Someone with a passkey may have gained entrance and be waiting for you.
6. Tell someone at home your estimated time of arrival so that if you're later than you planned, he or she can check your travel route and/or alert the authorities.
7. Plan alternate routes in case of traffic or weather tie-up. Drive these routes during daylight if possible so that your alternate route won't be in unfamiliar neighborhoods.
8. Drive in the center lane when possible, avoiding the outside or shoulder lanes where trouble can occur more easily.
9. Listen to your radio (or CB) for traffic conditions.
10. Use your flashers at the first sign of trouble, even while you're still driving in the traffic lanes.
11. Carry handkerchief, flashers, or some means to alert traffic you're disabled, and learn to raise the hood of your vehicle to signal trouble.
12. Remain in your car with your windows closed and doors locked until a wrecker, police car, or other safety vehicle approaches to help.
13. Keep your car properly maintained and in good running condition. Check the fluid levels (gasoline, transmission and brake fluids, engine oil, wiper fluid, and water in battery) frequently. Make sure your windshield blades and headlights work properly, the heating and defrosting systems are operating to keep the windows clear, and the tires have correct pressure and enough tread to provide traction on slippery surfaces.

Morton says that, of course, these thirteen thoughtful travel tips apply to men as well as women motorists and to daytime as well as after-dark trips.

PROVIDING A SERVICE in minutes that formerly took several days is one of the latest innovations in Dr. Martin E. Baurer's office here in Antioch. This service is for electrocardiogram (ECG) patients and is performed through the national computer network of the TELEMED Corporation, Hoffman Estates, Illinois. Electrocardiograms taken on patients in Dr. Baurer's office are transmitted to the Hoffman Estates Computer Center where they are processed. The computer then calls the doctor's office and a remote printer receives the analysis. The patient pictured here is Gerard Idstein Sr. of McHenry. Dr. Baurer's office hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays, and 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesday.

It's tornado season again!

Tornadoes may occur in any state at almost any time, although most strike the South and Midwest during April, May and June.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS offers these safety rules as precautions against death and injury in tornadoes:

- Always pay close attention to and be guided by the tornado warnings of the National Weather Service.
- "Tornado watch" means tornadoes are expected to develop.
- "Tornado warning" means a tornado has actually been sighted. Persons close to the storm should take cover immediately. Those farther away should be prepared to take cover if threatening conditions approach.
- When a tornado approaches, seek inside shelter immediately, preferably in a cellar, basement, underground excavation or steel-framed or concrete-reinforced building. Stay away from windows.

-In office buildings, factories and schools, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor or to a designated shelter area; if the building is not of reinforced construction, go quickly to the closest building, or to an open depression in the ground and lie flat. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs. Curtains should be drawn and blinds lowered to minimize danger of flying glass.

- In homes without basements, seek shelter under heavy furniture, in the center part of the house on the lowest floor, in a small room or closet if possible. Keep windows open on the side of the house away from the storm, but stay away from them. Naturally, basements provide the greatest safety, but don't seek shelter in basement areas immediately under heavy appliances on the floor above.

- In mobile homes, do not stay inside when a tornado is approaching. These dwellings are particularly vulnerable to destructive winds. Seek shelter in a nearby sturdy building or in a ditch, culvert or ravine. Mobile home parks should appoint a warden to pay particular attention to storms and radio and television warnings. A hand siren should be available to warn all residents.

- In shopping centers, take cover in a designated shelter area or against interior walls or under sturdy counters. Again, avoid buildings with large free-span roofs, and never seek shelter in a parked car.

- Anywhere outside in open country, when there is no time to find suitable shelter, lie face down in the nearest depression and protect your head with your arms. If you are driving in an open area and sight a tornado, turn off at a right angle to the storm's direction.

LOCALLY, SEVERAL hundred Red Cross disaster volunteers are trained and ready for tornado and other disaster relief action within the Mid-America Chapter, which included the six-county metropolitan area. Over 50 Red Cross volunteers participated in emergency efforts following the Chicago elevated train crash.

These volunteers are also on call night and day to provide food, clothing, temporary shelter and other assistance to persons burned out of their homes, because fires are the most common local disasters. All Red Cross aid to disaster victims is free.

Additional volunteers in all communities are needed by the Red Cross for disaster service work. For more information, call 662-4044.

Preventing seed decay

It's discouraging to have flower and vegetable seed decay in the soil or have young seedlings topple over (damp-off), wilt and die for no apparent reason.

However, you can greatly reduce seed and seedling losses by following these practices:

1. Purchase plump, fresh seed of plants adapted to the area.

Stick to varieties that are known to do well.

2. Keep the seedbed fairly dry.

3. Avoid thick planting

4. Avoid deep seeding.

5. Finally, water the seedbed with a solution containing one tablespoon of captan, thiram, ferbam, zineb or maneb per gallon water.

Be sure to repeat the soil drench at five- to seven-day intervals until the plants are up and well established.

Packers and Vikings to play basketball

Football players from the Green Bay Packers and Minnesota Vikings will perform in a basketball game Saturday at Salem Central High School in Paddock Lake.

The 7:30 p.m. game will feature "an evening of fun," said Dorm Grams, the school's athletic director. "When the game is over the pro football stars will be available for autographs. And to top it off, all seats are just $2."

Tickets can be purchased at the high school. Tentatively scheduled to play for the Vikings are cornerback Bobby Bryant, guard Ed White, defensive tackle Doug Sutherland, tight end Stu Voight and quarterback Neil Graff. Graff spent two years with the Vikings and now is a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Packers will be represented by placekicker Chester Marcol, running back Erik Torkelson, center Larry McCarren, tight end Rick McGeorge and tackles Dick Himes and Keith Wortman.

Former Viking defensive back Karl Kassulke will be "emcee" for the game.

Frosh baseball opener Saturday

The Antioch freshman baseball season begins this Saturday with a double-header against North Chicago on Antioch's field at 10:30 a.m. The Sequoits kick off a 25-game schedule that includes 12 home games.

Those games scheduled for Antioch's field in April include:

Apr. 4, Zion, 4:30 p.m.; Apr. 12, Dundee, 4:30 p.m.; Apr. 16, Warren (DH), 10 a.m.; Apr. 22, Belvidere, 4:15 p.m.; Apr. 25, McHenry, 4:30 p.m.; and Apr. 26, Jacobs, 4:30 p.m.

Coach Mark Guthrie encourages the public to cheer the team. Admission is free.

Varsity girls end basketball season

The Antioch varsity girls ended their basketball season, losing to Zion, 39-27, in the opening round of the state tournament.

Antioch led after the first quarter but were outscored by 18 points in the second quarter to put them behind by 14 at the half. Antioch outscored Zion in the second half but were only able to close the gap to 8 at one time in the game.

LEADING SCORER for the team this season was Michele Blanchette, who scored 161 points in conference action for a game average of 15 points. She also contributed excellent defense and fine rebounding.

Second high scorer, was Cathy Aschbacher, also a good rebounder and defensive player.

At the end of the season the players chose Michele Blanchette as most valuable and Heide Kapischke as most improved.

Schedule tennis

The Antioch High School tennis team, in cooperation with the school and village park commission, will be using Jensen Park from 4 to 7 p.m. on the following dates for conference matches: Apr. 7, 13, 20, 22, 23 and 27, and May 4 and 16.

Residents will be permitted to use the high school courts on those dates and are also encouraged to watch the team matches.

Tennis lessons and community tennis leagues will begin in early June.

BE WISE: ADVERTISE

ANTIOCH HIGH SCHOOL senior Keith Evanson (left) and faculty member Jeff Dresser battle for a rebound, anticipating this Saturday's Student-Faculty Activity Night, beginning at 7 p.m. Among the evening's festivities are: a basketball game between the "A" Club and faculty men, volleyball game between ACHS girls and faculty women, girls' gymnastics team performance and after-game dance. The event is co-sponsored by the Student Council and the Education Association. A percentage of funds raised will be contributed to the Parent-Teacher Club Scholarship fund.

Netmen open season Monday

Antioch High School's tennis team is anticipating an exciting season with the return of five varsity players. Though the services of 1976 graduate Larry Reckers will be missed, last year's sophomore team (9-3 season record) and returning players should make the Sequoits tough on the courts.

SENIORS ARE Bob Nasembeny (14-5, conference champion at third singles), Mat Warner (10-4, conference runner-up at first doubles) and Mark Mandrowski (6-8).

Two juniors are returning with varsity experience, Dennis Korjenek (12-6, conference runner-up at first doubles) and George Richter (8-8). Keith Rezin, a junior who played baseball as a sophomore, will see plenty of action.

THE SOPHOMORE team will be led by Roger Korjenek, Tom Surrock, Tom Melhorn, Phil Rezin and Greg McKenna.

The season opens Monday, Apr. 4 at North Chicago.

ANSWER

NO! It is the fireman's duty to extinguish the fire. The merchant therefore would receive nothing in exchange for his reward. Lawyers call this "lack of consideration." As contracts without consideration cannot be enforced, the firemen will lose their lawsuit.

This feature presents legal principles and problems. It should not be taken as a legal opinion or advice, which can be given only by an attorney after considering all relevant facts and circumstances.

Empty seats outnumber full seats 4 to 1.

That's the way it is during rush hour. Four times as many empty seats in cars as full ones. Think about that while you're sitting in traffic.

Share the ride with a friend. It sure beats driving alone.
